Dear Healing Animals Organisation friends

Where do I start? It’s been another incredible year for our animal healing work. HAO graduates and students from the Diplomas in animal and equine healing have been offering their healing skills at outreach projects overseas and in the UK. Many have joined me in the UK, Portugal, Cyprus, Egypt and Ecuador giving healing to dogs, cats, ocelots, jaguars, pumas, primates, rabbits, guinea pigs, parrots, and even a pygmy anteater and all manner of birds and other species of animals!

I also would like to thank each and every one of you for joining us at our HAO animal fundraising events and gong concerts and for your generosity, dedication, love and healing to all of our animal friends. Your support is greatly appreciated by the animal charities. If you would like to join us at any of the animal fundraising gong concerts, volunteer programmes and workshops, please scroll down and see the 2020 calendar is listed below.

I really hope you enjoy reading the HAO newsletter and all the incredible and inspiring HAO healing work taking place around the world. You too may be interested in joining us on the Diploma in Animal Healing and with this vocational training volunteer with us in the jungles of Borneo and Ecuador. You will be working with endangered species close up, training animal staff how to make and use enrichments for the animals in their care. This is incredibly rewarding, especially when we witness how much the animals love them too!

How to start up your own Complementary Business Workshop 26th January 2020

Spaces available

I am thrilled to report many graduate HAO healers are successfully setting up their own animal healing businesses. In 2020 you may be considering new ideas, options and a career change and how you can incorporate your animal healing work with your current job.

This workshop is a fantastic opportunity for anyone interested in setting up their own business and confidently have the right tools in place to see it through.

Whatever your tax position: PAYE or part salaried will be covered. As will self-assessment. This day also helps you to build your personal and professional profile and social platforms, with PR and Marketing tools to help you.

I have been a self-employed complementary animal and human therapist for twenty years plus and continue to use this established and trusted method of working.

Please email me at elizabeth@healinganimals.org for further information.

Together we are stronger!

Forging long term working relationships with animal charities is key to successful animal volunteering “Dog Rescue Cyprus are delighted to end another amazing year in partnership with Elizabeth and the Healing Animals Organisation.

A team of four HAO graduates joined us in Dali in October offering healing and enrichment to our shelter dogs. This contact is invaluable and seeing the dogs learn to trust again is the most precious gift. Graduates also support us with home checks for potential adopters, as fosterers and also in offering healing and support to our adopters in the UK – and sometimes as adopters themselves! We are also beyond grateful for the ongoing commitment and passion Elizabeth gives to fundraising for us – with £1000 being raised for our new kennel build. Thank you – and here’s to next year and the magic that happens when likeminded people come together.” - Dee Amy MHAO Chair Dog Rescue Cyprus UK

This Could Be YOU!

HAO animal volunteer trip Hurghada Egypt

For several years Louise, MHAO graduate and assistant teacher has been visiting the Bluemoon Animal Centre animal rescue centre and The Purrfect Cuppa in Hurghada, Egypt. Louise and HAO graduates regularly treat cats, dogs, donkeys, horses and even a camel! A beautiful working relationship has sprung up between Louise and the Blue Moon sanctuary, who are over the moon with the HAO animal relaxation techniques, sensory enrichment and HAOK9 Massage. Louise has built up this trusted and respected relationship with the founders and care workers, as she is totally committed to helping all animals in need, leaving any judgements and worries at the front gates. With the knowledge and skills students have gained on the Diploma and CPD courses, you too will be well equipped to work with a range of animals, conditions and sometimes challenging situations.

*As part of our ongoing continued Professional Development Healing Animals Organisation students and graduates can offer this wonderful service to senior folk in residential homes.

It is not until you have experienced visiting a senior person in a residential home do you realise how incredibly important it is to have canine and human visitors. A dog to stroke and love, a dog and healer to talk to, a dog to love you back unconditionally….this could be you and your dog!

I am thrilled we are teaching this very important arm of the Healing Animals Organisation. A legacy to my darling mum who, towards the end of her physical life found herself in a wonderful caring residential home. I took Lily with me to visit mum and could not get over how many of the residents adored Lily and joyfully looked forward to our visits. Lily and I gained so much respect and satisfaction from these visits that we were approached by the residential home to offer our services in a professional capacity.

Upon completion of the One Year Diploma in Animal Healing you may wish to join HAO Senior Therapy with your dog.

BEING A HAO SENIOR THERAPIST – I Love it!

Jeannie MHAO graduate HAO Senior Therapist shares her story….

I never realised just how much I would enjoy taking Bella, my borrowed dog, to visit Ian, a long-term resident at one of St Mungo’s care homes near Kings Cross in London. The homeless male occupants are elderly, no longer capable of living on the streets and need special care.

My visits there are rewarding for all sorts of reasons. First, I get to spend a Thursday with Bella who I met through Borrow my Doggy when she was six months old. She is almost six now and over the years we have formed a real friendship. She’s a cockapoo and such fun to be with. Our leisure time together consists of a walk, a bus ride and a ‘stop off’ in a cafe. We have several cafes we frequent and love watching the world go by. I like to pretend that she is mine.

Of course, our ‘job’ actually starts when we get to St Mungo’s. The real reason for visiting the home is to spend quality time with Ian who adores dogs, has owned many in the past and misses having them around. Christina, the warden, heard about HAO and contacted Elizabeth to see if she could organise some HAO members to visit with their dogs. The rest is history. After our HAO Senior Therapy training, Joy Chamberlain, fellow HAO graduate and I take it in turns to visit Ian with our ‘borrowed’ dogs. Our HAO training day with Louise and Elizabeth was such fun and the dogs had a great time showing off how good they would be at the job. The training barn at Cheshilfield was ‘converted’ into a care home for the day, but that’s another story!

As I placed Bella’s official blue HAO bandana around her neck I was proud she was going visit St. Mungo’s. On our last visit all the other residents on an outing but Ian had remained behind and was eagerly awaiting us. Today Bella headed straight for Ian’s knee and smothered him with licks. She stayed on the settee with him for 50 minutes, which was a surprise because Ian’s attendance span can be limited. I’m now getting to know his interests so took along 30 photos of animals with their young that I had used for a recent workshop and thought he’d appreciate seeing. He was enthralled and I was amazed he could identify them all despite some being quite unusual. Christina told me he loves animal stories so next time I have promised to take along a video about the famous black leopard and the animal communicator, Anna Breytenbach. It’s particularly pleasurable to respond to his interests in animals. He loves painting too and his artwork is framed and displayed on the care home walls.

It is also enjoyable to meet and chat briefly to the other care home residents who have interesting tales to tell and interesting activities to engage in. What is also lovely for me is that Bella loves the limelight and is the centre of attention. It gives me a chance to sit back, listen and reflect.

Over the last 30 odd years, I have been involved with care homes in various ways, all providing rewarding experiences although sad moments, too. The first was in connection with my mother who came to stay with us in 1992 after suffering a stroke, but sadly died a year later. I was working full time so during the week had to take her to the local BUPA care home in Highgate where she became a day resident. It was a difficult time for me but the staff were most accommodating and flexible regarding arrival and departure times. She hated it at first but as she made friends she gradually changed her mind.

My second experience, ten years later, was very different. I offered my time on a voluntary basis to assist at a Refugee Council care home in Golders Green. I often played games with the residents. Several times I took Troubs, my beautiful cat. As expected, they fell in love with her.

More recently I have been involved with an excellent care home in Staffordshire where I come from. My mother-in-law spent the last three years of her life in a care home there before dying last year just short of her 103rd birthday. Volunteers or paid artists come in to entertain and there are dance workshops and sing-along sessions in music, again emphasising the old songs to which any visitors are invited to join in! There are also painting and craft sessions, and unusual animals are brought in by specialists. Nell particularly loved the snake! However, care homes would certainly benefit from visits by HAO senior therapist with their dogs. As a HAO senior therapist, I am looking forward to making additional links with local care homes and, hopefully, a few private homes in which case I shall have to train another dog besides Bella. When’s the next Senior Therapy Training session?

The RELAX HAO EQUINE MASSAGE course dovetails beautifully with the Diploma in Equine and is being very well received by equine rescue centres, private stables, riding schools, and individual clients. We ran three RELAX HAO EQUINE MASSAGE fundraiser demos at Moorcroft Race Horse Rehab Centre in 2019 and raised £2,800. Great for equine healers to add this modality to their toolkit and combine healing with equine massage. If you have completed the Diploma in Equine and would like to join the HAO Equine Massage course please email me at elizabeth@healinganimals.org for more details.

This extra healing modality for our canine friends is extremely popular and books up fast. Please email me at elizabeth@healinganimals.org

Dr Rohini Sathish bvs c & msc mcvs Chief Veterinary Adviser MHAO has this to say...

“As a veterinary surgeon and animal lover, I greatly welcome HAO graduates and students to volunteer their services to animals in rescue and rehabilitation. Team work is everything! Don’t hold back, follow your dreams and share your healing skills with animals in your care. I look forward to seeing you on an HAO outreach project soon!”
As an HAO graduate, I was lucky enough to travel with Liz, Adele and Elsa to Zoorefugio Tarqui in Ecuador. This was a dream come true for me, South America is such a beautiful and vibrant continent and Ecuador is no exception. During the two weeks we were away I got to work with such an array of animals, jaguars, ocelots, pumas, tapirs, parrots, monkeys to name but a few.

For me one of the best things about the trip was the bonds made between myself and the other three girls. The treasured memories we made as we travelled together, ate together, relaxed and worked together. We each brought our own gifts to the trip and even though we worked long hours we managed to fit in swims in the pool and in a waterfall, yoga, meditation, mindfulness walks (through the rain forest), boat trips, cacao ceremonies and even a relaxing massage!

Working at the zoo is all about adventure, if you are looking for five star luxury this trip is not for you but if you can muck in with the work here the rewards are incredible. We built enclosures, bottle fed baby jaguars, planted a garden and trained the keepers in sensory enrichment.

The whole way through observing Liz and the effects of the sensory enrichment with the animals was such a delight. It is obvious the instant and long lasting effects of this work, both for the animals and the hard working guardians that look after them.

"Dear Elizabeth, Adele, Lindsay and Elsa thank you so much for volunteering with us at our centre here in Ecuador. All the animals benefitted from your sensory and environmental enrichments. We have seen how happy the jaguars, lions, ocelots, monkeys, tapirs and the parrots are to receive your love and care. We are implementing your ideas with great results. I also want to thank you in name of all of us here at Zoo Refugio Tarqui for the fundraiser for our centre. I saw the pictures of the gong fundraiser concert, and all the people who attended, they were amazing! And the $700 raised towards the jaguarundi cubs we rescued. We really appreciate this contribution, and especially you, Elizabeth you have a big heart thanks for all your help. Looking forward to working with you in 2020." Fanny Bonillo Principal and Founder Zoo Refugio Tarqui Ecuador
On a rainy day early October four HAO graduates left the miserable weather behind and headed to the warm and sunny Cyprus to spend a week with D.O.G. Rescue Cyprus in Dali and other animal charities in the surrounding area. In Cyprus there are about 200,000 stray dogs and 2 million stray or feral cats, which is due to the lack of a spaying/neutering program and a different mind-set of some people. D.O.G. Rescue Cyprus takes care of around 100 dogs at a time and similar sized rescue centres can be found throughout the country. Partnerships of organisations such as the HAO and animal charities can save many lives, through awareness, support and sharing of knowledge and resources.

The four of us went to the kennels every day to give healing, sensory enrichment and love to all the animals we worked with. The need of every dog is different; one might need to build trust with humans first and another one needs time off from the stress in the kennels and completely indulges in the hands-on healing.

For other dogs socialising and learning to walk on a lead may be the priority. All animals we worked with loved the sensory enrichment with a rose and neroli hydrosol and macerated oils. The hydrosols, sprayed onto our hands, helped them to relax and let go of trauma and loss. The oils provided nourishment; due to costs and the warm weather most rescue centres can only feed dry food.

During our time in Cyprus we worked closely together and supported each other every day. The diploma in animal healing prepared us well for working with rescue animals and staying grounded when faced with cruelty and also sometimes feeling overwhelmed due to the sheer number of dogs and cats needing help. The week and experience has once again been amazing and we were all grateful for the opportunity to work with such wonderful people and animals.
HAO UNITED WITH ANIMAL CHARITIES AROUND THE WORLD CREATING SPECIAL BONDS OF LOVE AND FRIENDSHIP

"The relationship between Elizabeth Whiter and myself started in early 2015, when a beautiful boy called Claude, made sure we found each other, and since then I can honestly now say I love this lady, not just for who she is, but more about WHAT she is!! An angel that has an abundance of energy to help all animals on our Planet, and I am very proud to call her my friend.

Since then The Healing Animals Organisation (HAO) have visited Cyprus every year and the amazing graduates and students of HAO, led by Elizabeth, volunteer to fly to Cyprus and offer healing and sensory enrichment to the beautiful dogs and cats across Cyprus. Even to a Horse and a Donkey that crossed our path once.

I have now met quite a number of HAO Diploma graduates, and I have created an amazing bond and friendship with so many, I have seen the magic and brilliance of their love towards animals and their work in Animal Shelters and cat colonies, I have witnessed their pure joy and attachment to each and every animal they have worked with, I love each and every one of them, and I personally thank them, from depths of my heart.

I am hugely proud to have the HAO join forces with Active8 Cyprus, and really looking forward to our 3 planned trips to Cyprus in 2020 (possibly 4-5 trips), where we will continue to visit different Sanctuaries and Shelters, to help enrich the lives of the animals and Rescuers. So many Rescue Organisations in Cyprus are looking forward to the HAO graduates visiting them and their animals, and witnessing their pure love, devotion and above all, learning from them.

From all of us in Cyprus and Active8, we love you!
We are looking forward to 2020 and beyond.

Linda Demetriou Trustee - Active8 Cyprus
Have you thought about fostering cats?

We catch up with Daisy, a HAO graduate working hand in hand with Croydon Animal Samaritans.

Daisy, HAO graduate Animal Healer has taken her Diploma in animal healing work to the next level in offering fostering for kittens and cats with Croydon Animal Samaritans. Daisy’s mum Sarah, decided to buy an outdoor luxury cattery, to house temporarily, the many unwanted and abandoned cats and kittens in the London area. To help with such an important project: HAO has funded the outdoor cattery’s electrics installation to help keep the cats warm and provide lighting.

Daisy has had cats most of her life and currently is the guardian to her beloved Bliss and Puskin. She always dreamt of dedicating her professional life to the welfare of cats. The Diploma in animal healing has actually enabled Daisy to do just that! She offers a professional animal service and Croydon Animal Samaritans have been very impressed with Daisy’s care and attention to the charity’s fostered cats, especially with the added complementary therapies she offers: relaxation techniques, helping out with socialisation skills, enrichment and the right food choices.

Daisy has successfully rehomed and help domesticate all the fostered cats in her care so far.

Just 3 weeks ago, Daisy took on a female kitten which had a very rough time. Now on her 4th home at Daisy and Sarah’s; Quaver arrived terrified of everything and everybody! Through Daisy’s dedication, love and attention, Quaver is now a happy and confident young cat and is ready for rehoming. Croydon Animal Samaritans is currently home checking a potential new home.

Daisy expressed to me her joy and pride in being able to heal as many of her fostered cats to full health and well-being, and it’s her life’s mission to help as many cats as she can find their forever loving home.

If you are interested in fostering cats check out if your local animal rescue centre offers this service. Make sure the charity will provide you with all food, cover vet bills and help find potential new homes.

HAO Animal Fundraising - the Heartbeat of the Healing Animals Organisation

Fundraising for Animal Charities and Rescue Centres is the heart beat of the Healing Animals Organisation. HAO in 2019 raised thousands of pounds for vital funds for animals in need all over the world.

Thanks to our May sponsored walk, gong baths and equine massage demonstrations we have raised vital funds for the following in 2019: Dog Rescue Cyprus, Zoorefugio Tarqui Ecuador, The Bat Hospital, Lindsay’s Rescue Animals, International Animal Rescue: The Great Bear Rescue, Active 8 Cyprus, RSPCA Patcham and Moorcroft Racehorse Rehabilitation Centre. Total £10,000

Muffin Pug Rescue is a breed specific rescue across the UK that is dedicated to actively rescuing Pugs and Pug crosses in need. As the breed has become increasingly more fashionable over the years, it has meant that many Pugs have been exploited and mistreated in order to meet the growing demand. As a registered UK charity (1164018) that aims to end the suffering of neglected Pugs, we operate through a network of volunteers called Fairy Pug Mothers and Fathers.

Our core aim is to rescue and rehabilitate Pugs within a home foster environment, before they live long and happy lives in their forever homes. Secondly, we aim to educate adopters and owners on how to care and look after a Pug. We believe that our dogs should lead a long, happy, healthy and natural life-style.

JAVA is a non-profit organization founded in 1999 to fight for the welfare of abandoned dogs located in Lourinhã which is approximately 45 minutes from the capital of Lisbon. At the shelter, there are approximately 190 dogs including puppies of all races and ages and is run by an amazing team of volunteers to regain their lost dignity by being abandoned, left in a ditch or attached to a pole by a cord. The sterilization of female dogs is one of the priorities, in order to minimize the scourge of the abandonment of animals in Portugal.

My first introductory visit to Java was with Liz back in December 2016 where we spent 2 days giving healing on a large number of dogs and establishing links with this rescue centre who were very impressed with our work. Due to a busy year of other working trips in 2017, we weren’t able to go out again until February of this year. The centre was very excited to see us again as the dogs benefited so much last time and this time around we were fully equipped with our macerated oils and sensory enrichments and were able to just get on with it as they trusted us. We also gave the dogs healing and K9 massage.

The volunteers said that they had never known it to be so quiet. Also in May of this year, we did another trip and again armed with our tools, we did some amazing work with the dogs and this time we had sardines for the very vulnerable seniors who were kept separately from some of the others who were in the staff room. They woofed these down with sheer delight!!

My favourite part was around at the back where the other seniors were. It was so lovely to be greeted by them especially as the first few trips some would just keep their distance or go inside their kennel so it was lovely to see how our work had built this trust. These guys are here until the end and Java make them as comfortable as possible rather than putting them to sleep.

There are other dogs there that have been there since puppies and every time we go we see the same dogs as it’s difficult to home them with so many but at least they are in good hands here even though it would be lovely to see them all go to a forever home. There are some fortunately that do however these are the younger ones. These gorgeous beings are so loving and friendly and you just want to wave a magic wand and see them in their forever loving homes!! The staff work tirelessly and really struggle raising funds and get very little government support.

We also met up with Phillips, an HAO graduate and his lovely girlfriend who live in Lisbon where we took them to Java so that our work can be continued and with Phillip being Portuguese this was a plus as well as having a sister who’s a vet! We would like Phillip to lead a group alongside myself and Liz and get in as many trips as possible. We have also established strong links with the Silver Seahorse in Peniche, a boutique hotel and family run by Grace and Lynn who love what we do and want to be part of helping dogs in Portugal. The accommodation is beautiful and only 15 minutes away from Java and will give us fantastic deals. Not only will you be doing some amazing work at Java, you will have some leisure time with plenty to do including the beach which is just a 5 minute walk away and the healing rocks nearby! Also we will arrange to take you on day trips with endless places of interest and for those fitness ladies, yoga and pilates is available and Ping Pong in their beautiful tranquil gardens and a healing massage by yours truly!

This particular working trip is great for those of you on a budget. I can’t recommend this trip highly enough and I’m looking forward to working with some of you in the New Year!
